by noon on April 16.

Prof. Ana Catarina Teixeira, recipient of the Curriculum Development Fellowship for 2017, will present on strategies implemented in the Portuguese program at Emory to better articulate curriculum from beginner to upper-level courses, while targeting translingual and transcultural competence. Her presentation will focus on how the challenges of developing intermediate content for less-commonly taught languages also provide opportunities to better meet the needs of a specific student body.

Please RSVP to Sarah Shortt at sshortt@emory.edu or (404) 727-8319
