THE 2016 ECLC STUDENT ASSISTANTSHIPS – TIBETAN LANGUAGE VIDEO PROJECT

This package of eight short video projects of Tibetan language skits was made possible under the 2016 ECLC Student Assistantship stipends. It is based on the projects of students from 101 & 102 classes during the academic year of 2015-16. The goal of this project is to encourage and share students’ own creative work. The projects represent, however, only an aspect of their learning through fun activities. Students’ original videos and accompanying texts were minimally edited and corrected with the assistance of Byeonghoon Lim, a rising senior student of Tibetan studies with MESAS at Emory. The project was strengthened further with additional easy exercises that are relevant to functional usage outside of the classroom. It is hoped that this short project carried out during summer 2016 will enthuse lively spirit among students who are interested in Tibetan language and studies. Thanks to MESAS Department and Emory College of Language Center for their kind consideration and support.
